PAYS PENALTY FOR ROSENTHAL CRIME

Four Gunmen Electrocuted in Sing Sing at Early Hour Today.

ARE GIVEN MORPHINE.

One of the Quaternion Makes Significant Statement Before Being Strapped in Death Chair.

Sing Sing Prison, April 13.—Warden Clancy announced that all gunmen had been executed at 6:23 a. m.

"Dago Frank" went first.

Stoic to the last, although in the early hours of their final night on earth they had shown signs of breaking down as they face the great unknown, Harry Horowitz (Gyp the Blood), Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie), Frank Cirofici (Dago Frank), and Jacob Sicdenschner (Whitie Lewis), marched with steady feet to their doom behind the "little green door" in Sing Sing.

Paying with their lives the penalty exacted by the State for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, on July 16, 1912, the men, bound by the ties of comradeship in trouble and in the face of death, died together rather that one should save his life by "squealing" on the other.

Each had the opportunity to win a reprieve by telling the story of the workings of the system which lured Rosenthal to his death on the eve of the disclosure by their victim of police graft in New York.

New York authorities had hoped to the very last that one of the gunmen —Dago Frank— would break down at the last moment and save his life by telling the whole story.

They hoped to use Frank as a witness against Charles Becker, alleged instigator of the Rosenthal murder, convicted and four months in the death house at Sing Sing, but who won what the gunmen were denied—a new trial

Frank's mother in the last hour made a final futile appeal to him to save himself.

Small injections of morphine administered by the prison physician for the prpose of lessening the resistance to the electrical current probably had the effect of partially stupefying the condemned men, although they were able to respond to the prayers of Father Cashin and Rabbi Goldstein and Rabbi Kopfstein, who marched with them from their cells to the death chamber.

The last hours of the condemned men were passed in restless, fitful slumber. Until midnight all four divided their time between prayer and protestations of innocence. "Whitey Lewis," who had shaken off the stolidness that had marked him since his arrest two years ago, appeared to be the strongest figure of the quartet and, managed by the force of his example, to keep up the fagging spirits of his associates.

"I am going off an innocent man," he repeated continually.

"Dago Frank" lay most of the night in a semi-stupor, answering in a dazed way whatever questions were put to him.

"Gyp the Blood" spent the early part of the night lying on his bed staring at the bars of the door of his cell

"Lefty Louie," formerly the most talkative of the four, had become the most reserved, sitting for hours at a time on the edge of his bed with his head in his hands "It's all right,' "Whitey',' he exclaimed, after one of his companion's outburst "We did all we could. What's the use of talking. It won't get us anything. Let's think of other things."

Hans Schmidt, the Catholic priest convicted of the murder of Anna Amuller, joined in the prayers of the four men during the night, and by his fervor served to uplift their depressed spirits.

Only once during the night did the condemned men speak of the execution when they asked one of their guards about the order in which they were to "go off." The guard was unable to enlighten them, this matter being left to the discretion of the warden.

On account of the number of persons who had a right to be present in the execution chamber the warden decided to admit twelve witnesses at a time, changing the twelve for each execution.

Seisdenenner, who was second to die, made a remarkable statement in the death chair, which, in the opinion of most of those who heard it, practically amounted to a declaration that the other three were guilty. But he did little to clear up the remarkable chain of police scandal and tragedy which convulsed New York, held the whole country's intense interest, and for which Charles Becker former police lieutenant, who is charged with plotting Rosenthal's murder, still stands in the shadow of the chair.

WILL COMPEL AN APOLOGY.

President to Give Huerta Until This Evening to Make Amends for Arrest of the American.

Washington, April 13.—The United States will insist upon the firing of a salute to the American flag by the Mexican federal garrison at Tampico.

Provisional President Huerta, it is understood, been given until this evening to comply with this demand. It became known this morning, on unquestionable authority, that the apology will not be accepted in full satisfaction.

The Government here regards the arrest of the United States bluejackets at Tampico as an insult for which more abject expressions of regret are required. Therefore, unless, a salute of twenty-one guns is fired by this evening, it is possible that Rear Admiral Mayo will direct his guns against the garrison.

On his return to Washington this morning, President Wilson immediately called for all dispatches relating to the incident, and, after examining them, declared emphatically that the salute would be fired. By this statement, he has indorsed unreservedly the vigorous stand taken by Rear Admiral Mayo.

It is nderstood that Secretary Bryan, acting under instructions from President Wilson, directed Charge O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City to inform Huerta that owing to the fact that yesterday was Easter Sunday, Huerta would be given an extra day's grace to make a thorough investigation and full reparation for the action of his subordinates.

A telegram also has been sent to Admiral Fletcher, at Vera Cruz, directing him to convey to Admiral Mayo the full approval of his action by the American Government.

President Wilson also is giving close attention to the latest defiance of the United States by rebel General Villa regarding the Spaniards at Torreon. Action in this matter will be taken by the United States in the near future, according to information obtained here this morning.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Dr. Gammon Describes Missionary Work in Brazil.

Rev. Dr. Gammon, of Brazil, spoke at the morning services at the Second Presbyterian Church yesterday and gave an account of his twenty-five years' work among that people. He spoke of the possibilities of development in Brazil and of the intellectual, moral and spiritual needs of the field. He has given the last few years to educational work, having under his charge a boys' and girls' school at Lavas.

Dr. Gammon was given close attention. He is the foreign pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, and was accorded a cordial welcome.

At the evening service Dr. Allison, the pastor, preached the annual Easter sermon and a large congregation was present. He spoke of the resurrection of Jesus as a great historic fact, upon which we base our hope of the resurrection of all believers. He said the empty tombs and a risen Christ—teach the fulfillment of prophecy, the manifestation of mighty power and the hope of all believers. The star of hope was that Easter morning kindled in the grave and the rainbow of hope was placed over the dust of our sleeping dead.

ISSUES WARNING TO TAX OFFICERS

Grand Jury Reports Will Be Placed Before Special Commission.

TO BE NO FAVORITISM.

Auditor Moore Urges Revenue Men to Report All Assessable Property in The Commonwealth.

Richmond, Va., April 13.—Not only will the reports of commissioners of the revenue throughout the state be laid before the State Tax Commission for its consideration, but the reports of grand juries and similar supplemental assessments and corrections of erroneous assessments heretofore will also be scrutinized by the commissioners appointed to study and revise tax laws of the State. In a general circular issued to commissioners of revenue, State Auditor of Public Accounts C. Lee Moore calls attention to the particular importance at this time of assessing all assessable property at a fair market value, so that the grand juries will have few corrections to make.

Mr. Moore said that the work done by commissioners in 1913 was the most capable and effective in the State's history. The officers were better posted in the laws relating to their duties and powers, were more earnest in their purpose faithfully and firmly to meet the responsibilities placed on them by the statutes and were aided by a public likewise enlightened as to its duty and more responsive than ever before to legal requirements.

After calling attention again to the mandatory requirement that judges of the circuit and corporation courts shall charge the grand juries to examine the land and property books and report to the courts, Mr. Moore says he has no doubt the Tax Commission will call upon the clerks of the courts to furnish it copies of these reports. In the act creating the Tax Commission it is "authorized to obtain from any officer of this state any information or aid which it may require."

"This being true," says Mr. Moore, "it is most important that you should assess all assessable property and make all assessments at fair market value, so that the grand jury, in passing upon your assessments, will find very few, if any corrections to be made, and your work will receive its approval.

"The assessments of property, income and license taxes for 1914 made by the commissioners of the revenue and sent to this office will be submitted to the Tax Commissioners for consideration and analysis by comparison with assessments for previous years in the several counties and cities, and in the several districts of commissioners in the same county.

"The office of Commissioner of the revenue is one of importance and responsibility, requiring absolute impartiality in assessing taxpayers and determination to fully assess at market value. This is the law and applies alike to all taxpayers. No taxpayer should expect or desire to be treated more favorably than his fellow taxpayers, and every commissioner of the revenue should see that no favoritism is shown."

TO HAVE CLEAR FIELD.

Nine Virginia Congressmen Not Likely to be Opposed This Year.

Richmond, Va., April 13.—It is the belief of those best versed in political conditions here that none of the nine Democratic congressmen in Virginia will have opposition for office this spring. Already the list of candidates has been closed in the eighth district, which means that C. C. Carlin will run without opposition, and the lists closed Saturday in the tenth district ,represented by Congressman Hal D. Flood, with no opposition to that representative.

The report that State Senator Louis O. Wendenburg would offer for Congress against Representative A. J. Montague from this, the third district, is not generally regarded as probable.

FREE TOLLS PLANK.

Originals Spousers Are Now Repudiating Measure.

Friends of the administration have cut the ground from under the Democratic opposition to the repeal of the free tolls clause.

A partial symposium of the views of men who were delegates to the Baltimore convention and who voted for the free tolls plank in the Democratic platform shows that the original sponsors of the plank now repudiate it approximately five to one.

Replying to a circular letter sent out by Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, on the first of this month, 338 delegates already have declared in favor of the repeal, 69 against repeal, and 11 noncommittal.

Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, has issued a statement connecting Hawaiian sugar refiners with the Panama Canal tolls fight, pointing out that they are the shippers chiefly interested in the exemption of American vessels from tolls.

A strong appeal to the country in general and to the Democratic voters in particular to determine their attitude on the repeal controversy upon its merits, and not to be led astray by an agitation founded on selfish interest is contained in an editorial Secretary Bryan has written for the April number of the Commoner, which he made public last night.

Mr. Bryan takes up one by one the arguments of the opposition and disposes of them in an orderly and concise manner. He shows that the free tolls plank was inserted in the Baltimore platform if not through a misunderstanding, at least as the result of a lack of understanding on the part of the delegates. He shows conclusively that the plank in question is in direct contravention of the fundamental opposition of the party to subsidy, and in all respects subordinate to the plank in the same platform against subsidizing the American merchant marine.

Mr. Bryan, among other things says:

The repeal of the law cannot be construed to be a construction of the treaty.

It is a refusal on the part of the United States to raise that question in that way.

The Chief Executive speaks for the nation in international affairs and it is only fair to assume that he speaks advisedly when he declares that intercourse with other nations is seriously embarrased by the free-tolls law, which he seeks to repeal.

The question is not what we can do but what we ought to do.

Secretary Bryan refers to the exemption plank in the Baltimore platform as a "little plank,' and to the pronouncement on subsidies as the "larger plank."

In the tolls case "the President takes responsibility for an official act, which he regards as necessary for his country's welfare, and the people must decide whether or not he is justified, and those who refuse to act with him also assume responsibility, and they, too, must abide the judgment of the public."

Had the Democrats in convention assembled been confronted by the condition which now exists, no such plank ever would have been placed in the platform.

Mr. Bryan says that a platform plank dealing with international questions should be taken "as the expression of a wish rather than as the expression of a determination."

If a nation desires to array itself against the world it should be sure that the thing which it is to gain is worth what it costs.

STUDENTS AS POLICE.

Sworn in by a Circuit Court Judge to Prevent Burglaries in Vicinity.

Charlottesville, Va., April 13.—For the purpose of taking all possible steps to put an end to the series of burglaries from which the University of Virginia community has suffered, a number of students have organized a "vigilance committee." They have been appointed by Judge John W. Fishburne, of the Circuit Court, a special police for Albemarle county.

The committee will raise by subscription funds to be used in employing expert detectives and in obtaining bloodhounds to use in tracking the criminals, and take other steps deemed wise.

DISASTRUOS FIRE AT CULPEPER, VA

Walls Collapse and Kill One Man While He Was Fighting Flames.

PLACE LOSS AT $50,000.

Conflagration Starts in Bakery and Results in Destruction of Three Commercial Establishments.

Culpeper, Va., April 13—Fire in the business section of Culpeper, early today completely destroyed three of the city's biggest commercial establishments, killed outright one man and injured seven others, one of whom probably will die. It is feared that two others, both colored, were buried beneath the falling walls and were killed. Both of the men are missing and it is believed that they are buried in the debris.

Carter Parr, nineteen years old, nephew of L. B. Nelson, a Culpeper merchant, was killed outright when the walls of the harness shop, owned by Temple Hill, caved in. Robert Rosson, twenty, also caught by the falling mass, was probably fatally injured. Five other of the volunteer fire fighters wee seriously hurt.

The damage done will exceed $50,000. The buildings destroyed were:

The Bell Baking Company, a two-story structure on Main street.

The L. B. Nelson building, a three-story structure, scores of men entered which was used as a poolroom and bowling alley, and the upper floors as storage rooms for the Goodloe Dry Goods Company

The Temple Hill harness shop, a two story building.

At 10:30 o'clock the fire was under control, and the city officials announced that but little further damage could result.

The fire originated in the Bell Baking Company's plant, and was discovered about 6:30 o'clock. It was at least half an hour before it became evident that the building was in danger.

Practically the entire city turned out to assist in fighting the flames. By 7:30 o'clock the walls of the bakery began crumbling and the flames had spread to the Nelson building. While the firemen were flooding the three-story structure, scores of men entered the building and began carrying out its contents.

The harness shop which adjoins this was threatened. A score of men entered this building, and, while carrying out the stock, the walls of the Nelson building caved in, crushing the smaller building. The walls of this structure immediately fell, pinning a number of the occupants to the ground.

Parr was killed outright. It was some minutes before Rosson's crushed body was recovered. Six others, who were pinned beneath the debris, were finally taken from the ruins.

GIVES UP SOCIAL DUTIES.

Frail Health Causes Governor's Wife to Cancel All Her Engagements.

Richmond, Va., April 13.— Mrs. Henry C. Stuart, wife of the governor, has been compelled to cancel all of her social engagements for April and May on account of her frail condition, her health having been precarious several years, necessitating the greatest care of the members of her household.

The strain incident to her social life of the last few weeks has been very great. Her scanty vitality has been so much impaired that her doctors are apprehensive that she may be on the verge of a complete breakdown, resulting in a long and serious illness.

She has, therefore, yielded most regretfully to their urgent advice to take a complete and timely rest, in the hope that it may restore her to comparative health and strength.

DOCTOR AND NURSE ARE ARRESTED

Will be Arraigned in Pittsburg to Face the Charge of Murder.

"HOUSE OF MYSTERY."

Mrs. Myrtle Allison Was Buried a Year Ago Under the Name of Daisy Davis After Operation.

Pittsburgh, April 13.—Dr. C. C. Meridith, a well-known local physician, and Miss Lucy D. Orr, a nurse in his employ, arrested a few days ago on an illegal charge of malpractice in connection with the death of Mrs. Myrtle Allison a year ago, and released on bail, have been re-arrested by the county authorities, charged with the woman's murder.

The action followed the exhuming yesterday of the body of a woman buried March, 1913, under the name of Daisy Davis, but which was identied as that of Mrs. Allison, by N. L. Baxter, her brother.

Mrs. Allison is alleged to have been taken to the sanatorium, known as the "House of Mystery" of Dr. Meridith, at Bellevue, a suburb, after an illegal operation.

The records of the Bellevue Medical Department shows that a certificate was issued to the sanatorium for the burial of Daisy Davis.

Previously Dr. Meridith and Miss Orr had furnished bail aggregating $10,000, Meridith being accused of performing an illegal operation, and Miss Orr of being an accessory.

The body of Mrs. Allison was partly destroyed by quicklime, which had been placed in the cheap coffin, and it is said to have borne unmistakable evidence that she had died as the result of an illegal operation, and not of pneumonia.

Mrs. Allison, who, until divorced a few years ago, moved in the best society of Butler, disappeared a year ago.

Ground for the murder charge was afforded when N. L.Baxter, a brother of Mrs. Allison positively identified the remains of the missing woman when they were exhumed from an unmarked grave in the United Cemetery, Westview.

At midnight three automobiles appeared at the courthouse entrance. District Attorney Jackson was hurried away in one of them, after explaining that he was going to "lose himself" for 12 hours to get some sleep. Headed by Chief E. E. Clark, a squad of detectives in one of the machines journeyed to Wildwood, the home of Dr. Menidith. The third machine, containing three detectives under the lead of Ferd Schmidt, went to the "Port of Missing Girls," in Bellevue, and there they arrested Miss Orr.

The detectives found the lower portion of the house illuminated. Miss Orr was there alone. When the detectives demanded an entrance she began barricading the doors by piling chairs and tables against them.

While she was busy at the front door, one of the detectives slipped in through a side window. He noiselessly removed the barricades from the rear door and admitted the other detectives. They then placed Miss Orr under arrest.

She upbraided the detectives, who told her to dress and accompany them.

New York, April 13.—Francis R. Arnold, father of Dorothy Arnold, angered at the assertion by District Attorney Jackson, of Pittsburgh, that the missing girl is in the Arnold home, 108 East Seventy-ninth street, adopted a last means to disprove the story. He took reporters with him throughout the house and permitted them to pry into every corner. There was not a sign of Miss Arnold there.

Charged with murdering Frank Garrett in attempting to arest him, Police Chief Joseph Spiver and Patrolman Harry Deney are under arrest at Lexington, Ky.

ANNUAL INSPECTION ON

Policemen Begin Yearly Visits to Premises in the Usual Sanitary Campaign

As is the yearly custom, the members of the police force of the city are now making an inspection of the same, and during the next few days they will make personal visits to the premises of every resident, and wherever anything unsanitary or unsightly may be found attention will be called to the same and sufficient time given in which to abate any nuisance and to make a thorough cleanup. No exceptions will be made, nor will anything be taken for granted, but the officers will satisfy themselves that the health laws of the city are observed.

The officers generally encounter a few obdurate people, who seem disposed to await their own time in carrying out the orders of the authorities, and they sometimes force the police to cite them to appear in the Police Court to show cause why they should not be fined for ignoring the law. It may be stated, however, that the athorities are determined and in cases where they may not receive a satisfactory reception the officers will proceed according to their instructions.

But we hope for better things, and are satisfied the great majority of the community will not need force to bring about satisfactory conditions where anything in the way of the objectionable may be found.

The authorities are acting pro bono publico, and it is for the good of all that the city be placed in a sanitary condition before the advent of warm weather.

Alexandria has for many years been signally exempt from serious epidemics, and all should vie with the authorities in taking every precaution to keep such calamities away.

According to an ordinance of the City Council, on the first day of July, 1915, the premises of all persons abutting on any street or alley where a sewer has been placed must be connected with the same. This means that such residents have fifteen months in which to take advantage of this great convenience. After that time fines will be assessed against all delinquents.

There will be services tonight at 7:30, after which will be the annual election of the vestry.

PASSING OF FISH TOWN.

Fishtown has at last received its coup de grace. During the month of April, and in by-gone years the rush and hurry incident to that locality afforded an interesting scene, and hundreds of people with no business on the premises visited the place to view the arrivals and watch the many persons employed in splitting shad and cutting herring. The place is now desolate as the ruins of Karnak.

Fishtown had been on a steady decline for many years in consequence of the changed conditions of the 20th century when fish are packed upon the shores of the lower river where caught.

Shad and herring are still high heresbouts. The former range from 35 to 75 cents a piece, and herring are bringing 25 cents per dozen.

BRIGHT EASTER SUNDAY

Services in Churches Bring Many Together—Streets Filled With Pedestrians During Day

The weather yesterday was all that could have been desired, and the principal thoroughfares were thronged with people until after sunset. Large congregations attended the various churches, in nearly all of which services appropriate to Easter were held.

Weather prospects Saturday night were ominous, and, according to the Weather Bureau, there was to be rain and colder conditions yesterday. Rain, however, fell during the night, but before dawn the wind had changed to the northwest and the skies were clearing. Early in the day the weather became clear and crisp, to the relief of all who were anxious to enjoy the glorious Easter Day.

Many people visited Washington for the purpose of mingling with worshippers in that city, while hundreds of Washingtonians came to Alexandrians during the day. Electric trains passing between the two cities were crowded until long after dark.

The weather today (Easter Monday) has been propitious, to the joy of the younger generation, who had their hearts set fixed upon a day of recreation after the winter's hibernation. Eggrolling and carousal and nature's scenery have been indulged in, not only by children but by many of their elders.

STRUCK BY AUTO.

Colored Woman Knocked Down at King and St. Asaph Streets.

Laura Holland, a colored woman, 54 years old, was knocked down and badly injured Saturday night at the corner of King and St. Asaph streets by an automobile driven by G. B. Triplett, of Fairfax county. Mr. Triplett was coming up the street at a moderate speed when the woman stopped, evidently frightened at the approaching machine. After she was hit by the automobile she was taken to the store of B. Abramson and afterwards removed to her home, 612 south Columbus street. The police made an investigation of the affair and found that it was an accident that Mr. Triplett could not avoid.

FAITH IN GREAT SOUTH.

Southern Railway Looks For Big Business and Buys Engines And Cars

Richmond, Va., April 13.—The Southern Railway Company intends to spend much of the proceeds of the $5,000,000 of trust notes right away. To that end President Harrison a few days ago announced that contracts had been made for 60 locomotives, 54 all-steel passenger train cars, and 4,075 freight train cars, largely of steel construction.

Of the locomotives, 45 will be of the heavy Mikado freight type, five of the Pacific passenger type, thirteen six-wheel switchers, and two eight wheel switchers. They will be built in accordance with the latest and most approved designs, and will be similar to motive power on the same type now in service on the lines of the Southern Railway where traffic is heaviest.

The all-steel passenger equipment includes 35 coaches of the largest and latest type, electrically lighted; four dining cars, five combination passenger and baggage cars, five mail and baggage cars, and five baggage and express cars.

The 4075 freight train cars will include 2,200 thirty-ton steel underframe ventilator box cars, 1,050 thirty-ton steel underframe box cars, 500 fifty-ton all-steel flat cars, 200 cabooses, 100 steel underframe stock cars, and twenty-five steel underbeam poultry cars.

This large equipment order shows the belief of the Southern Railway Company in the continued prosperity and growth of the territory it serves, and its purpose to enlarge its facilities to keep pace with that growth. As soon as it can be delivered by the builders, this equipment will be placed in service at the disposal of the business interests of the southeastern territory.

OFFICES AWAIT NEW HEADS.

Moncure and Saunders Have Not Received Commissions—No Immediate Changes Expected.

Richmond, Va., April 13.—Commissions have not yet been issued for Virginians whose appointments to federal offices were confirmed early last week by the Senate. Only two local offices will be affected by changes, but the arrival of the new chiefs is awaited with interest. Both R. C. L. Moncure, who becomes collector for internal revenue, and John G. Saunders, the new United States marshal, have a number of appointments at their command.

It is not believed that many changes in either office will be made at once, as it would be almost impossible to carry on the routine with a new force. Under the law, the present deputies can be appointed for a thirty-day term, after which they can be relieved in favor of new appointees.

Mr. Saunders, who is sergeant of Hustings Court, Part II, is not expected to take up his new duties until after the present term of the United States District Court, which is now in session. He will permit the incumbent to finish the work now on hand, in order that he can start with a fresh slate. Mr. Saunders is carefully studying his duties, and expects to familiarize himself with the routine before he takes the oath of office.

No announcement has been made by Mr. Moncure concerning his plans. M. K. Lowry, the present collecter, has not been notified when his successor will qualify. He has gathered around him an efficient office staff, and no immediate changes are expected. One of the first duties of the new collector will be to name a successor to the late W. G. Gwatkin, deputy collector under the income tax appropriation.

A vigorous, but quiet campaign is being carried on in South Richmond by four candidates, who wish to succeed Sergeant Saunders. Upon his resignatin, Judge Ernest H. Wells, will appoint as successor. J. T. Willard, George Jones, G. W. Blankenship, and W. E. Ferguson are applicants.

GETS LIGHT SENTENCE.

Young Express Messenger Who Took $5.000 Must Serve Six Months in County Jail.

Richmond, Va., April 13.—Carl D. Garner, the young express messenger, who pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing $5,000 from the Southern Express company, has been sentenced by Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., of the United States District Court to serve six months in the Henrico County jail. The light sentence was due to the fact that the stolen money was recovered, chiefly through young Garner, and that he had already served four months in jail pending trial.

Garner made no attempt to deny the crime. The fact that he had always been steady and had an excellent character was brought out through the testimony of two ministers and a Sunday school superintendent. Mrs. Garner, mother of the prisoner, testified in his behalf.

In sentencing Garner Judge Waddill cautioned him to be more careful in the future in selecting his associates. The judge stated that he believed evil companions had led Garner astray.

Garner was employed by the express company and abstracted a package containing money which was being sent to a bank in Macon, Ga. The theft was quickly detected, and Garner was charged with the crime. He broke down and confessed and told where the money was hidden. All except $12 was found and this was made good by his family.

NEW RAILWAY FOR NORFOLK.

Capacity 2,300 Tons, to Accommodate Bay Line And Washington Steamers.

Norfolk, Va., April 13.—A. Warren, proprietor of the Old Dominion Marine Railway and Machine Shops, is building a second railway of semi-Crandell type, which, when completed, it is said, will be the largest in the harbor by between one-fourth and one-third, capacity, and to cost, including site, $60,000. The site of the new ways is at the foot of Mulberry street and adjoining his smaller ways on the east.

The property has a frontage of 85 feet and runs from Pearl street to the Port Warden line, the depth being 900 feet.

The track of the railways will be about 500 feet long and will have a grade of 5-8 of an inch to the foot, but this will be reduced to 3-8 of an inch to the foot by means of the Crandell cradle type designed to haul a vessel on nearly an even keel.

The railway is being build for 3,000 tons capacity, will be equipped with double chains for handling the cradle and everything is figured and constructed for nearly one-third more tonnage than is anticipated to haul, the maximum tonnage it is expected to haul being about 2,300.

Mr. Warren is building the ways for the prpose of hauling the Bay Line, Washington steamers and other craft of the size of the boats mentioned. At present all of these steamers are hauled out or docked at the Newport News yards and the ways here will mean a saving of time and in many respects will have advantages over the present arrangement.

It is estimated by Mr. Warren that the ways will be completed about July 1.

VIOLATED THE LABOR LAW.

Department of Labor Had Three Agents Investigating Conditions.

Norfolk, Va., April 13.—Agents of the Department of Labor have for several days been engaged in making investigations at Suffolk, and they had several concerns haled to court to answer to charges. There were convictions as follows:

Violations of the child labor law—John King Peanut Company and the Nansemond Truck Package Company; each fined $25 and costs.

The following were given thirty days in which to comply with the provisions of the law regarding the installation of toilets for men and women and for placing others in sanitary condition: W. Warble, J. S. Pinner, Lyman R. Brother & Co., H. Laderberg, Pruden Company and Mrs. W. R. Daughtrey.

COLLIDED WITH STREET CAR.

Wife of Warwick County Farmer is Badly Hurt.

Newport News, Va., April 13.—Mrs. Brunk, wife of a farmer of the Dunkard settlement in Warwick county, was seriously injured Friday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock, when an automobile in which she and her husband were riding, collided with a street car at the corner of Huntington avenue and 42nd street. She was thrown from the automobile and dragged a short distance beneath the car before it could be brought to a standstill.

She was taken to the home of C. M. Branson nearby, and later to the Francis Hospital, where an examination caused physicians to fear she had sustained internal injuries. Her body was badly bruished.

Mrs. Brunk was thrown over the front of the machine when the impact came and on the track in front of the car. She was dragged but the wheels did not pass over her body. She retained consciousness but appeared to be suffering a great deal when taken into the Branson home.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Man Falls on Buzz-Saw And is Instantly Killed.

Petersburg, Va., April 13.—Mr. P. S. Goss, aged 37 years, a well-known and respected citizen, was instantly killed Friday afternoon at a stave mill near Reams, when he fell upon a saw running at full speed. It appears that Mr. Goss was making an effort to avoid falling on an ungovernable saw when he accidentally fell upon another, which nearly severed one of his arms from his body and through the loss of blood caused instant death.

FOUND DEAD IN RUINS.

C. R. Gusler May Have Been Murdered for $800 in his Trunk.

Rocky Mount, Va., April 13.—A mysterious affair occurred Wednesday near Ferrum. C. R. Gusler and family were at a tobacco barn some distance from his home stripping tobacco, when Mr. Gusler left the barn for the house. That was the last seen of him alive.

Some neighbors saw flames going up from the house and raised the alarm. When they got to the house they found Gusler outside the house, dead from a shotgun wound practically with his head blown off. The house was soon destroyed. Gusler had with him a trunk in which he kept his private belongings, supposed to have contained a new suit of clothes and $800 in money, which was missing.

No one saw Gusler from the time he left the barn until his body was found. So there are only theories as to his acts. He may have found some one who had the trunk in the yard, and who, when caught in the act, killed Gusler and set fire to the house to cover up the act, or Gusler, in a temporary fit of insanity, may have set fire to the house and then killed himself, which latter theory is most generally accepted in the neighborhood. Gusler was about fifty years old and in comfortable circumstances.

His house was worth about $1,200 and he had a good farm paid for, and his domestic affairs seemingly were pleasant. No reason can be found for the suicde theory. When found the gun was lying across Gusler's body, and a forked stick beside it, which may have been used to discharge the gun. Gusler is survived by his wife and several children.

FARMER INSTANTLY KILLED.

Thomas Gross, of Bedford county, is Struck by Train at Crossing.

Roanoke, Va., 13.—Thomas Gross, aged eighty-eight years, a prominent farmer of Bedford county, was struck and instantly killed by the Norfolk and Western Memphis special, southbound, on a private crossing one mile east of Bonsack. The accident occurred at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Gross was accompanied by a son of one of his tenants a lad, aged six years. The boy was unhurt, jumping from the track just as the train went by. Gross was particularly keen as to sight and hearing and why the approaching train was unnoticed, is unexplained.

The speed of the train, which is a limited, threw the body of the old man upon the pilot of the engine, and in this position it was carried fifty yards, rolling off to one side as the train rounded a curve. Mr. Gross was a widower, and had no children.

EXECUTION OF THE GUNMEN.

Four men implicated in the murder of Herman Rosenthal in New York two years ago were electrocuted at Sing Sing, New York, at an early hour this morning. The action of Governor Glynn in turning a deaf ear to entreaties of young wives and others interested in the condemned men will be approved by all lovers of law and order. The fact that men are shot down ruthlessly in the largest city on the American continent is a sad commentary, and were it not for the fear of the gibbet there is no telling how many cases of deliberate murder would confront the authorities.

The position of any man having the power of commutation of sentence in his hands at a time when the shadow of the gallows is playing around men who have forfeited their privilege to remain in the land of the living is by no means enviable, and while the chief executive of a commanwealth may have as pronounced an instinct of sympathy as other human beings, he fills a position of great responsibility, not only to his state, but to his Creator as well. Hence he is compelled to say no at times when his tears mingle with those pleading for the lives of persons dear to them.

The murder of Rosenthal was one of the most deliberate and cruel in the annals of crime. The participants in this diabolical deed were apprehended and they have paid the penalty of their crime. The criminals had young wives who endeavored to play upon the sympathies of the Governor. He was, however, inexorable.

The lesson of the law has been taught, and men with young wives should be found with their life partners at night and not in localities where murders are planned and carried out.

An incident in the investigation of the murder and mutilation of the body of George Curtin in Alexandria several years ago should prove a warning to the thoughtless. Curtin was a young man with a wife and babes at home. Had he been where he should have been between two and three o'clock on a Sunday morning he would have escaped a terrible fate. At the investigation half a dozen young men with wives and infants at home were summoned at witnesses. It was sad and mortifying for them to be compeled to acknowledge that they were in a disreputable section of the city at such an unseemly hour on a Sunday morning. All who rush through life in such a reckless manner are not called upon to pay the cost with their lives. Occasionally, however, one is, seemingly as a terrible warning to the others.

JONES' VOTE DISAPPOINTING.

The Rockbridge County News, Lexington, Va., says:

One lone Virginia Democratic congressman voted against the administration in the Panama Canal tolls fight Monday. That was Jones of the First District; that arch crazie who finds so much that don't suit him in the public life of other people. It affords another one of those disappointments in the Virginia Progressives which has always made the County News rather shy of them. Acts don't measure up with professions. Jones has been the most stalwart of administration men, but when the administration needed him he was lacking. It is but fair to say, in view of his ship subsidy record, that the shipping trust is opposed to the President's program, and Jones has in his district the biggest shipbuiding yard in the United States.

CARDINALS LOSE AND WIN.

The Cardinals opened the season with a defeat at the hands of the fast Lincoln Athletic Club, by the score of 14 to 4.

Bischoff who was on the mound for the Washingtonians, twirled a creditable game, and was ably supported by his team mates, who enjoyed a batting feast at the hands of Cardinals, who clearly demonstrated the need of practice.

Score:

Lincoln A.C. 14
Cardinal A. C. 4

Cardinals, 7 Collegians, 3.

Sunday afternoon at the Alexandria Baseball Park, Captain Snowden, of the Collegians, formerly members of the Cardinals, invaded the maroon and gray stronghold. With Risdon, as their star twirler, on the mound, victory was claimed, but the Cardinals walked up an swatted the pill to all corners, piling up runs at leisure, a total of 12 hits in 7 innings, while Brown, the Cardinals outfielder, proved to be a surprise as a twirler, fanning 10 men and allowing one hit, his little outshoot fooling Captain Snowden twice.

The Cardinals will present a stronger line-up in the future as "Dug" Merchant and George Allensworth, two good players, have signed contracts with the team. The next game will be played Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock against the Columbia A. C., of Washington, D. C.

Rescues Drowning Girl.

Chester, Pa., April 13—Screams for help and the shouths of a dozen boys and girls brought Walter McIlhenney, a young man, to the banks of the Chester river yesterday, where he found Mary Guesford, 11 years old, struggling in the water.

The girl had floated far from the shore, and, calling 'good-bye" to her companions on the bank, was sinking for the third time when McIlhenny jumped overboard, swam to the spot where she was last seen Diving, he brought her ashore. The child was unconscious, but physicians restored her. Her companions said a boy named Thale had shoved Mary into the river The police are looking for him.

ASSAILED IN PULPIT.

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst Attacked During Service by Woman Sympathizer of I. W. W.

New York, April 13.—Jane Est, a young woman sympathizer with the doctrines of the Industrial Workers of the World, interrupted yesterday the morning service of the Madison Square Presbyterian Church and was arrested.

Rising in a seat which she had preempted in the pew of a parishoner in the gallery of the church just over the chancel, Miss Est started an attack on the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, the pastor.

"I want to call your attention to an article in this paper," the young woman said," It was just as the prayer of consecration was about to be offered. As she spoke she waved a newspaper "This church ," she replied, has a minister who repudiates Chirst"

The organist looked over his shoulder and catching sight of the speaker, began running his fingers gently over the keys. Miss Est then essayed to pitch her voice above the melody of the organ, but the organist changed from the treble clef, threw on the pedals and fairly shook the edifice with the sonorous vibrations of the big pipes. Only a syllable or two of what the woman was trying to say reached the congregation.

Hearing of the disturbance the sexton rushed to the street and called a policeman, and these two men, assisted by members of the congregation, ejected Miss Est from the building. She was taken to a police station, where she was charged with disturbing public worship.

Miss Est was arraigned and held in $500 bail for examination on tomorrow. She was not able to furnish the bail and was remanded to the Jefferson Market prison, adjoining the court.

Dr. Parkhurst, who was ill, was not in the church when Miss Est began her harangue.

Great Singers Must be "Tobacco Wise"

Tuxedo is the Tobacco Chosen by Opera Stars

MEN who depend upon their voices come to know tobacco as the ordinary smoker never knows it. A sensitive throat or mouth feels the slightest sting, bite or scorch of tobacco.

Tuxedo is the one tobacco which singers, actors, public speakers—all men who guard their throats zealously—can smoke with pleasure and safety.

Tuxedo tobacco cannot sting, bite or irritate the delicate membranes of the mouth or throat.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo tobacco has made thousands of men converts to the pipe, because it has made pipe-smoking possible for them. Under the famous "Tuxedo Process" the mild, tender leaves of the highest grade Burley tobacco are so skillfully treated that Tuxedo burns slowly and affords a cool, mild, thoroughly enjoyable pipe smoke.

Leading men in all walks of life—well-known doctors, lawyers, ministers, lecturers, etc.—smoke Tuxedo and testify to its soothing influence on the throat.

NEWS OF THE DAY

There was a serious disturbance yesterday at Catanzaro, in the province of that name, in Italy, just as the bishop was about to begin the celebration of pontifical Easter mass in the cathedral. Last Sunday the bishop issued an order forbidding the usual Easter processions and the abuse of sacred images, which are carried through the streets from morning till night during holy week. This caused great indignation among the people, and when the Easter services were about to begin they invaded the church. They rushed toward the altar and shouted: "Death to the bishop." Their actions became so threatening that the bishop and the clergy who were to have assisted him had to flee to places of safety.

The annual installation of officers of Alexandria Lodge of Elks will be held tomorrow night. The ceremony of installation will be performed by Robert S. Barrett, district deputy grand exalted ruler, and the grand lodge members residing in Alexandria.

Shot Down in the Street.

Bristol, Va., April 13.—D. Smith, 37 years old and a painter, was shot down in the principal street here Saturday night by William Jonas, who had been his friend and companion. Three shots were fired in the midst of a crowd. Smith is shot through the liver and has little chance to recover. Jonas escaped into Tennessee.

United States warships of the Atlantic fleet will steam through the Panama Canal early in July, speed up the Pacific coast to San Diego, and return to Hampton Roads by the same route, according to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, who inspected San Diego harbor yesterday and made preliminary arrangements for the reception of the battleships. The purpose of this early jaunt through the canal, he said, was to prove to the world that the big waterway is even now in readiness to accommodate shipping.

Frank G. Carroll, alias Hohl, alias Frank Wilson, the confessed robber of the Union Bank of Altoona, Pa., and who was confined in the Hollidaysburg jail awaiting sentence which was to have been pronounced upon him today, made a sensational escape some time after 1 o'clock yesterday morning. An employe of the jail, who went on duty at 5:30, saw a rope made from a mattress dangling from the roof to the sidewalk in front of the jail. Going inside he found Carroll's cell empty.

Miss Alice Young, daughter of Major Gen. and Mrs. Edward Clinton Young, of Beverly Hills, Chicago, decided on the eve of her marriage to Rowland Hall, of Worcester, Mass., that she would not wed him. A fashionable church wedding had been planned for next Wednesday. Twelve hundred invitations had been issued. Mr. Hall arrived a week ago. Friday night Miss Young ran into the room where her father mother, and guests were seated: "Daddy, I can't; oh, I can't!" she sobbed. Then turning to Mr. Hall, Miss Young explained: "I am not sure that I love you Rowland; I mean, love you enough to marry you." A few hours later Mr. Hall started back to Worcester.

Pottstown, Pa., April 13.—Nearly one hundred girls, all of them claiming to be "attractive, handsome and sweet-tempered," have up to this date staked their claims for the heart and fortune of Frank Busshaus, the young Harmonyville(Chester county) farmer, who was suddenly left an orphan by the tragic death of his father and mother, caused by drinking a spring tonic of wormwood and alcohol three weeks ago.

EASTER BRIDE ENDS LIFE.

Baltimore, April 13.—What she expected to be her wedding day proved to be her death day yesterday for Miss Annie Smith, 24 years old, 109 Baldwin street, Woodberry, who disappointed at what she believed the fickleness of her lover, swallowed several grains of strychnine at her home bout 4 o'clock in the afternoon She died several hours later at St Luke's Hospital.

On her finger when death came was a small plain gold ring, which the man whom she loved, Thomas Lett, of Laurel, Md., had given her late Saturday night Miss Smith showed her mother and other members of the family the ring and smilingly told them that her wedding day was to take place Easter day She asked that a white dress which she had made some time ago for the ceremony be decorated with green ribbons. She seemed to be happy and told everyone in the house that her heart was overflowed with joy.

A letter from another girl in the case, which Miss Smith found upon Lett while they were talking together in the home early yesterday morning, is what banished the dreams of the expected bride-to-be and changed her dreams of bliss into determination to take her life.

A year ago Miss Smith held the same determination to commit suicide and at that time narrowly escaped death. Her act at that time was brought on through a disappointment of a similar character, but based on an entirely different foundation. She was to have been married in the spring of 1913 to a man named Richard Worles, a neighbor. Worles was killed by a railway train while crossing a trestle in a small Ohio town. Miss Smith was unnerved by the shock and jumped in front of a raidroad train several days later, a few yards from her home. The engineer saw Miss Smith in time and brought his locomotive almost to a standstill, but the woman was knocked down by the side of the engine. She sustained three broken ribs and other injuries and lay between life and death for several months.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
